

ONE ENJOYS

Both the method and results when Syrup of Figs is taken; it is pleasant and refreshing to the taste, and acts gently yet promptly on the Kidneys. Dr. D. H. Hambleton cures the system effectually, dispels rheumatism and fevers and cures habitual constipation. Syrup of Figs is the only remedy of the kind ever produced, pleasing to the taste and acceptable to the stomach, prompt in its action, and fully equal to all its effects, prepared out of fresh and healthy and agreeable substances, its many excellent qualities commend it to all and have made it the most popular remedy known.

Syrup of Figs is 50¢ a bottle in 8 oz. and $1 bottle in 16 oz. available to visitors. Any reliable druggist who may not have it on hand will procure it promptly for any one who wishes to try it. Do not accept any substitutes.

BRECKENRIDGE News.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 28, 1860.

STEPHENSPORT.

Dr. C. of Dakota, is visiting old friends here.

A number of our young people will attend Barnum's big show at Louisville.

The Rev. Gregory, of the Christian church, delivered two sermons here
last week.

Dra. Marshall and Goldstein and Mr.
James Lay attended the races at Louisville last week.

Mrs. James Lay, who had been absent
on a visit to her parents, in Newburg,
Ind., for some weeks, past, returned home Sunday.

Mrs. Melville Claycomb closed her school here on Friday of last week and so far as we know, gave perfect satisfaction to all her patrons.

Some of our young men called out a large of help and cleared the town community of its thousand thistles. It is much improved in appearance, but it needs a new fence. That's right, young men, be ever engaged in good work.
You all will want your graves kept green and your names inscribed to other parts.

Attention is called to Mr. D. Hambleton's card in this issue. Mr. Hambleton has opened an office, anywhere on the street, for the purchase and sale of real estate. There is no man in town better posted about real estate, and its value than Mr. Hambleton.

Mrs. Jessie Claycomb and Mr. W.
H. Lewis were united in the holy bonds of wedlock on Wednesday night of last week. The ceremony took place at the Baptist church, Rev. W. C. Brandon, of Covington, officiating. The happy couple left immediately for Covington
their left home.

Men of Judgement and Sense Did It.

A great many people ridiculed the idea of Cleverport's making a donation to the City for the benefit of the school.

The men of judgement and sense up there insisted on doing it, and the subsequent events have proved their wisdom.

The pay-roll of those shops is now over five thousand dollars per month, and steadily increasing.

It has added largely to the population, and will be the means of inducing many more to come.

This should be a lesson to Cantonon, and convince our citizens that they must do something themselves if they expect to attract outside capital and population. —Cleveland Enquirer.

that is sent away for building material.
A planning mill rightly managed would be one of the best paying institutions in the world.

Mr. Alfred Ochs has bought the Cato
Satterfield lot opposite Mr. H. V. Duncan's. He will tear away the old house and replace it with a new.

Rev. W. H. Piner, of Louisville, will lecture in the colored church at Webster Tuesday night, June 3d, for the benefit of the church. Everybody invited.

Mr. S. L. Sulzer is still lingering in Cincinnati, and shipping goods by the steamboat load. There are more novelties in dress goods this season than ever before. —Cincinnati Enquirer.

To relieve the monotony of dark costumes, Parisian ladies are wearing scarlet and emerald yellow, and are in great favor. Their jackets are open front. The vests have high collars, like a gown's stock, or are worn with a cravat of the same silk, tied in a bow at the waist.

Sensible Ways of Dressing the Hair.

Another thing in which more women than men fall is the care of the hair. This is usually the bane of a wife's life, and to make all their heads exactly alike, regardless of distinctive style and character, is one of the first great sins of a woman to some pains to discover what suits her best, and then remain faithful to it, with an occasional modification to conform the taste of fashionable headgear. Do not be afraid with me.

I fancy that many people are getting tired of having the hair all combed up in the top of the head, and drawn in straight upward lines; the effect is by no means becoming or pretty. As a rule, think the hair that grows about the temples, and is combed back, and then drawn straight back and fastened, will be beneath the puffs now so much worn. I have seen half a dozen decided chignons, and a number of them, they are not imitative of any of that style.

I saw two at Sandown by fashionably dressed women.—Madge in London Truth.

Threading the Moth.

If one has a cedar chest to store wood in, a barrel should be a trunk or flora box. The barrel must be well washed in cold water, dried and lined with newspapers. These are pasted in, using them with a large paste.

Cover every place on the inside of the barrel, letting the paper come up to the corners of the barrel. Cover the outside with paper, and then the side.

The wood should be thoroughly brushed and sanded, carefully folded and packed, and the barrel should be sealed with a strip of paper pasted around where the cover joins the lid.

The feet cap the same.—New York Commercial Advertiser.

Recovering Wounds.

It is an interesting fact that there are now three Duchesses of Manchester. The second of these, who became duchess during the death of the duke in 1891, is in March, the wife of a man.

She is the daughter of a Humberian nobleman, beauteous, witty, highly accomplished, and as able and astute as any woman in England.

Her husband has been more influential in his party than in his wife's, in postponing a governmental crisis than she, while her social sway was undimmed.

Her birthplace is the London suburb of Hurlingham, but no birthplace of her husband's has ever been ascribed the dignity of the Marquis of Hartington. But no birthplace of her husband's has ever been ascribed her grace's name.—San Francisco Argonaut.

Eugene Robinson's Mammoth Three Floating Palaces.

Eugene Robinson's Three Mammoth Floating Palaces will exhibit in our town on Friday, May 30th, afternoon and evening, at the public landing, is something new, novel and instructive.

Mr. Robinson, the manager, is also the owner of Robinson's museum of novelties, the greatest collection he has ever put together, and he has spared no pains or expense in putting up his elegant Three Floating Palaces.

It will be the greatest show ever witnessed in these parts and everybody will enjoy a huge treat in the shape of curiosities, the like of which has never been seen.

The show will come here on two occasions, Friday, May 30th, and Saturday, June 1st.
